2018

23rd AGM & Training
& Tradeshow Conference

Aboriginal Water and Wastewater Association of Ontario

Who We Are

The AWWAO is a not-for-profit, member oriented association representing over 300 water supply and Wastewater treatment professionals in Ontario's First Nation communities.

Our continuous goal is to ensure that First Nations water and wastewater treatment plant operators are knowledgeable, efficient and effective in managing the purification of the water and the treatment of wastewater in their communities.

AWWAO has been working with the provincial and federal government in advancing the importance of training and certification of First Nations water and wastewater treatment plant operators.

What We Do

The AWWAO is an association that best understands and satisfies the training, education, certification and licensing needs of treatment plant operators of Ontario's First Nations. Our dedication to supporting operators touches not only health, but safety, spirit and empowerment, most of all knowledge and independence.

Why

Working together to maintain AWWAO's goals and objectives in support of the operators training education. Make your commitment to sponsor this annual event and receive maximum exposure for your company and/or organization.

Please review the following sponsor opportunities to find your perfect fit. Our coordinator will help you customize a package designed to provide you with maximum exposure for your company/organization.
